Responsibility And A Place To Prove It

Responsibility.

A word with an important meaning to a lot of Andover youngsters who have been using the former Central fire station as a drop-in center during the summer.

Through the use of the facility, the young people have been learning the meaning of being responsible and respecting property through their own efforts.

Now after working to improve the interior, provide equipment, they are faced with possible eviction.

The selectmen have allowed use of the station until Oct. 17. It was originally destined for demolition and turned over to parking spaces once the fire department moved into the new public safety center.

The young people are hopeful that the selectmen will allow continued use.

Gerry Faro, 11 Marilyn Drive, a senior at Andover High school and a member of the steering committee which supervises the activity at the fire station, reports that the place is humming with activity every night.

Monday night there were four meetings involving over 150 young people.

All activity is supervised by adults who have volunteered to assist the youngsters.

Among some of the groups meeting there are sensitivity groups, a surf club, ski club and a community involvement group.

The surf club members make their own surf boards and have an equipment pool. The group goes surfing on weekends and plan three trips one to Ocean City, N. J., another to Cape Hatteras and one to Virginia Beach.

Funds for the trips are raised by the youngsters themselves, some through dances held at the high school. There are no dances held at the station.

Equipment at the manual arts department at the high school has been used by the club to build the surfboards, but equipment at the station has replaced that useage of the school facilities.

The ski club has four trips planned and is expected to have four teams participating in meets this winter.

Officials Apply For Ch. 90 Funds

Local officials met with the county commissioners and county engineers Tuesday to request Chapter 90 funds for 1971.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin, accompanied by Public Works Director Robert McQuade and Engineer John Avery, submitted a request for $62,000, of which the town will pay one quarter.

The local officials expressed a hope that the legislature would provide additional Chapter 90 funds, in order that the amount of work can be increased.

Planned for construction with the funds, is rebuilding of Andover street.

The town has been accumulating funds for the past two years for the total project. The first year funds will be for the section from Argilla road to Dascomb road.

The money received this year, coupled with funds to be appropriated in 1971, will be used for reconstruction of the section from Dascomb road to Hall avenue.

Local officials were informed at the meeting that it is contemplated that in the future, local communities will be assessed for survey and planning work in connection with Chapter 90 projects.

In the past state and county governments have picked up the costs for this work. Due to some communities changing projects, resulting in additional survey and planning work, the state department of public works now feels that an assessment must be made to the local communities.

The percentage will come out of the total amount of funds granted local communities.

RECREATIONAL DISCUSSION. Stewart Allen, recreation consultant for the town, left, checks over some information with Mrs. R. Milton Cole of the Recreation Advisory committee and Leslie Bartow, recreation director. Allen conducted a public hearing last week in order to determine the desires of the residents of the town for development of Andover Recreation park.

Plan Playstead Development

Doherty School Addition plans, lumbering with elephantine grace toward the town meeting deadline for state approval, now include playstead development plans to provide recreation for all ages.

School Building Assistance Commission head William Black Thursday insisted on playstead specifications before Doherty addition approval, but the school department already began drawing up plans and moved them fast.

Recreation consultant Stewart Allen, of Bennington, Vt., was down Thursday evening to address 150 Andover citizens in search of recreation planning. School Supt. Dr. Kenneth Seifert and Phys. Ed. Director Donald Dunn held Allen over Friday morning to walk around the playstead listen to plans and give his advice. The plans went into Boston this week.

James St. Germain sees the Doherty addition building committee retaining Allen for initial recreational planning for the playstead, after an engineering study is complete, and Town Manager J. Maynard Austin expressed his pleasure at the developments and FinCom head Dr. Albert Greenberg concurred.

Seifert told the TOWNSMAN he hoped that Allen will eventually take a look at all the school playgrounds, as the schools want them to serve as community recreational centers as well as school playgrounds.

Seifert told the TOWNSMAN that SBAC Commission Head Black also expressed satisfaction with the directions of the Andover school administrators' 1970-1980 Educational Masterplan, which offers three school construction alternatives to house the 2300 - 3000 new pupils the school department expects the next ten years.

Black agreed with the school administrators view that the third alternative, housing future pupils by continued additions to present schools, is infeasible. Black wants more details on two alternatives, both of which assume completion of the Doherty School addition, and eventual phasing out of Shawshen and East Junior High as pupil enrollment buildings, using East for office space and as a core and research facility. One administration alternative assumes a separation of middle school or junior high students from high school students, while the plan preferred by the administration calls for adding a core facility and more pupil space to accommodate grades 6-12 (both the "school of exploration" and the "school of application") at the Shawshen Road site.

Black's approval of the direction of plans for future school construction, and the Doherty school addition's place in those plans, is necessary before state aid can be secured. Also necessary is the report of the one-site committee, which was reported "somewhere on Black's desk," last week.

Most of the hurdles cleared, the building committee looks now for SEAC approval, in preparation for town meeting.

Building Committee Chairman St. Germain grumbled serenely on Tuesday that his committee wants to get at building the school that the town needs.

Because of self-imposed delays, the town must go through the cumbersome procedures of two town meetings, 6 months apart presently, to approve architects' fees.

Two Bomb Scares Probed By Officials

Andover fire and police responded to two bomb scares early Wednesday afternoon.

The first was called into Andover East Junior High school about 1:30 p.m. The pupils were released for the remainder of the day.

Another call was made to the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company building, 11 Chestnut St. After a search of the building, employees returned to their offices. The call was made shortly after 2 p.m.

In other police activity Wednesday, three juveniles were apprehended for involvement in stolen cars in Lawrence and Lowell.

Nazareth Academy Begins Year

September 10 marked the opening day for the 1970-71 school year at Our Lady of Nazareth Academy in Wakefield. Students assembled in the auditorium for welcome and general announcements by the Principal, Sister Barbara Anthony, after which they were assigned to their home rooms.

Faculty members were introduced and three new teachers welcomed: Sister Cornelius from Presentation Academy, Louisville, Ky., who will teach English and French; Sister Mary Assumpta, formerly on faculty of Spalding College, Louisville, who will be teaching in the Theology Department; Miss Maureen McCusker, Guidance Counselor.

A new addition to the Language Department is the Language Lab. Present enrollment at the Academy is 272 students from Wakefield and many surrounding areas.

It is good to remember that a teakettle, although up to its neck in hot water, continues to sing. Man has never been without stress and everyone must learn to deal with it. Be as cheerful as you can under the circumstances, you'll find it helps.

Plan Tour Of Lots In Ballardvale

The Four Seasons Garden Club plans to conduct a guided walk of two pieces of land along the Shawsheen River, lots 10 and 10A on the town map, on the Saturday morning before Town Meeting voters decide whether the town shall turn these lots over to the Conservation Commission.

Explorer Scout Troop 75 will assist the garden clubbers in leading citizens on the walk Saturday, Sept. 26, between 10 and 12 a.m., to give voters a look at the land they must vote on.

Mrs. Richard Cotton, chairman of Horticulture and Conservation for the Four Seasons Garden Club, emphasizes that the purpose of the tour of the shorefront properties will not be to influence voters either way, but rather to encourage citizens to inform themselves firsthand about the properties before voting on the issue on Oct.

5. To reach the lots, which are off Burt Road, follow signs, which will begin at the bridge in Ballardvale. In case of rain, the walk will take place Sunday, between 2 and 4 p.m. instead.

Fashions Displayed At E.J.H.S.

Andover East Junior High School during the week of Sept. 14 presented a program for the grade nine Home Economics girls. This program focused on the "now" fashions suited to the individual.

During the week long presentation many aspects of the fashion scene were explored under the guidance of local specialists. Mrs. Ann Craig, hairstylist, spoke about the care and styling of hair. Demonstrating with a student, Joyce Desjardin, current styles were reviewed and individual problems discussed.

Mrs. Claire Gyrsting, a Home Economics graduate from the University of Rhode Island, illustrated the importance of appearance with special emphasis on appropriate colors.

Mrs. Phyllis Almans, Peabody, discussed makeup stressing the natural look. She brought cosmetics geared to the junior high school level.

The program's finale was a fashion show arranged by Sutherland's of Andover. Mrs. Barret, store manager, assisted the "models" in selecting six current fashions and accessories. Joyce Desjardin, Chris Farnham, Gaye Putnam, Kathy Strassel, Violet Marnie, Leigh Cleveland, Ann Myrick, Julie Russem, also a ninth grader, was the commentator.

The total program was successfully arranged by Mrs. Paula Gaynor, Mrs. Ann Murphy, and Mrs. Emily Danforth.

Services Scheduled At Temple

Temple Emanuel of Merrimack Valley, 101 West Forest St. in Lowell, announced that Rosh Hashonah services will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 30, at 8 p.m. and on Thursday morning, Oct. 1 at 10:30 a.m. Rabbi S. Daniel Breslauer will preach on "New Directions in Jewish Living" and "Youth Shall See Visions."

Temple Emanuel, embodying the idea of a "Free Synagogue" invites all members of the community to attend this, and all services during the year. Located at the junction of Rtes. 495 and 3, the Temple serves the entire Merrimack Valley region, from Andover to Acton.

Services for Yom Kippur are scheduled at 8 p.m., Friday, Oct. 9, and begins at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 10. Yiskor, or Memorial Services, will be recited at 4:30 p.m. Oct. 10.

To Explain So. America Campaign

On Thursday, Oct. 1 at 7:15 p.m. at the Andover Baptist Church, a team of two men from South America will explain the exciting campaigns used there by the Christian churches to reach every home in a country.

Candido Gonzalez, a pastor from Guatemala, who has participated in nation-wide campaigns in Guatemala, Honduras, Dominican Republic, Peru, Colombia and Ecuador, will explain their methods and relate the exciting results.

Rev. Charles Koch, a member of the Latin America Mission, will accompany Mr. Gonzalez and relate his own experiences in movements in Venezuela, Bolivia, Peru and Colombia. He will also act as interpreter for Mr. Gonzalez.

These men will explain the principles of this movement, and how they can be applied to the churches in the United States to involve members in total witness in their local church and to enlarge its membership.

The Latin America Mission has developed this "Evangelism-in-Depth" program.

Since this meeting will be the only one in the Greater Lawrence area, all churches are invited to attend. There is no charge.

The U.S. Frigate, Constitution, "Old Ironsides," was launched, Sept. 20, 1797.

Miss Nancy Cohen

Semifinalist As Merit Scholar

Principal of Abbot Academy, Donald A. Gordon, announced that Nancy Alexandra Cohen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jason S. Cohen, 3 Ivy Lane has been named semifinalist in the 1970-71 National Merit Scholarship Program. Nancy, a senior at Abbot Academy formerly lived in Haverhill, moving to Andover this summer. She has been active in Haverhill's Project Head Start working as a volunteer this past summer.

Nancy is one of 14,000 semifinalists out of some 710,000 students in 17,000 high schools that took the test last February.

About 96 percent of the semifinalists are expected to become finalists, and each will be considered for one of the 1,000 National Merit $1000 Scholarships which are allocated by state. Many will also be considered for the renewable four-year Merit Scholarships provided by some 500 corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, trusts, professional associations, other organizations, and individuals. Each finalist will receive a Certificate of Merit in recognition of his outstanding performance in the program.

One of every four cars will be involved in a traffic accident this year. Seat belts won't stop accidents, but they will reduce deaths and injuries. The Massachusetts Medical Society asks, which of the four drivers will you be?

AT MEETING - Congressman F. Bradford Morse (second from right) met recently in Washington with Andover officials regarding a $1.5 million grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development for sewage treatment facilities. From left, Director of Public Works Robert McQuade, Selectman Roger Collins, Morse, and Selectman Robert Watters. The grant, approved in April, is now awaiting funding.

Carroll Heads Department

The appointment of James Carroll as head of the Industrial Arts Department was approved by the school committee Tuesday evening. Mr. Carroll will be responsible for program design for the department, and also, on a two-year trial basis, for program design for Industrial Arts, K-6. The position carries $600 in additional salary.

The committee approved the following elections: Ronald Shabowich, B.A. Suffolk U., East Junior High math teacher, $7200; Robert T. King, B.S. and M.Ed. Boston College, and teaching experience, East Junior High science teacher, $10,100; Miss Ellen Maria Hayes, B.S. St. John's University, and experience, East Junior High Reading, $10,400.

The committee approved the appointments of Mrs. Charlotte Lynch as West Elementary half-time teacher in Grade 4, at $3600, and of Mrs. Frances Patterson, part-time as teacher aide at East Junior High at $2.25 an hour.

Robert John Secatore was appointed permanent substitute at West Junior High as a science teacher at $7200; Mrs. Susan Simon as West Elementary teacher aide 14 hours a week, $2.25 an hour; Mrs. Jeanette Mooney, as teacher aide at West Junior High, 35 hours at $2.24 an hour; and Mrs. Ruth Waters, as teacher aide at Doherty Elementary, 35 hours at $2.25 an hour.

The committee accepted the resignation of Mrs. Mary Lussier, as West Elementary teacher aide, part-time, to take a full time position as West Elementary clerical aide. It was noted that Mrs. Lucille D. Giannone, previously appointed as a PERC tutor, has decided not to sign a contract.

SCHOOL LUNCH MENU

MONDAY - Chilled juice, American chop suey, whole kernel corn, bread and butter, fruit cup and milk.

TUESDAY - High and Junior High: chicken noodle soup, submarine sandwich, potato chips, black midnight cake and milk. Elementary: fruit juice, Dagwood sandwich, potato chips, midnight cake and milk.

WEDNESDAY - Fruit punch, Swedish meatballs over rice, green peas, bread and butter, ice cream sundae and milk.

THURSDAY - Batter-fried chicken, mashed potato and gravy, buttered carrots, dinner roll, jello with peaches and milk.

FRIDAY - High and Junior High: tomato soup, hamburger on a bun, cole slaw, chocolate pudding and milk. Elementary: tomato soup, grilled hamburger, potato puffs, sunshine cup and milk.

Buster Keaton Is Featured

Buster Keaton needs no introduction to those familiar with him and his performance as a unique comedian. Most of his films were not so commercially successful as those of Chaplin or Lloyd; he was far more sophisticated, perhaps too much so, for the Roaring Twenties. But today his films stand alone in their field. They are not dated nor have they ever been duplicated; other comedians copied his gags and situations, but none ever imitated his style or personality.

The full length film will be shown at 8:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday evenings, Sept. 25 and 26 at the Hammond Castle in Gloucester, off Route 127. Reservations should be made in advance by mail or telephone 263-2080.

RECEIVES PIN - Richard L. Morgan, a native of Andover and a '32 graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was presented a 30-year service pin at the recent Open House ceremonies held by the U.S. Army Mobility Equipment Research and Development Center, Fort Belvoir, Virginia, to mark the eighth anniversary of the U. S. Army Materiel Command (AMC). He is shown here being congratulated by Colonel Bennett L. Lewis, Commanding Officer, who presented him with a pin and certificate. Mr. Morgan served in the Army from 1940 until his retirement as a colonel in 1960. Since July, 1960, he has been employed at the Center, which is responsible for research, development and engineering for round-the-clock mobility in some 15 fields of military engineering ranging from bridges to detection devices. Mr. Morgan resides with his wife at 7401 Gatewood Court, Alexandria, Virginia. A son, Richard L. Jr., resides in Norris, Tenn.

New Staff At Center

The Christian Formation Center, River Road, begins its activities with a new staff, headed by its executive director, Rev. Francis Paolo, OFM, MA, and Rev. Roger Giglio, OFM, assistant director and program coordinator.

Other staff members are: Br. Justin Bickel, secretary; Br. Columban O'Brien, program coordinator; Mrs. Mark Brown and Charles Tallerico, general maintenance supervisors; Walter Kivlan and Richard Leary, maintenance assistants; Mrs. Geraldine Hart, first receptionist-secretary (day shift); Miss Anne Parrotta, second receptionist-secretary (evening shift); Mrs. Claire Silveria, bookkeeper; Nicholas Hapsh, food director.

As a unit of the Franciscan Province of the Immaculate Conception, the CFC wishes to serve the needs of the people of the Greater Lowell-Lawrence area. Its primary objective is to inform and form Christians according to the mind and spirit of Vatican Council II. The Center hopes to feature religious programs, both educational and ascetical, a modern film institute and film rental library, a community adult education program, a pastoral counselling office, an emergency medical station, the rental of facilities (includes dining room, conference rooms, classrooms, library, auditorium, patio area, etc.), a bookstore and religious gift shop, and the utilization of bedrooms and dormitories for retreats.

Through a warm friendship and a deep interest in one's fellow man, the CFC strives to preserve the Franciscan ideal of "faith through friendship." It will attempt to radiate the spirit of St. Francis of Assisi particularly through its staff members and volunteer help. It will present itself as a house of worship, a source of information, a form of communication, and a haven of comfort, understanding, and service to the People of God.

The Christian Formation Center is located on 25 acres of land in the western part of Andover, overlooking the New Hampshire mountain area. It is accessible from routes 93 and 495.

Commissioner of sources Arthur W. E. is also Chairman of the Merrimack Study Area, announced the completion of 143 potential reservoir sites in tributaries of the Merrimack River. The 293 potential sites cover the entire Merrimack Study Area, plus the Rowley River area, but excluding the Nashua River drainage.

The 138 potential sites in the report have a total of 22-billion gallons with a combined surface area of 7,800 acres. Because of the comprehensiveness of the study, some sites are necessarily of a nature. Some sites are not feasible upon investigation. These sites have been merit further consideration. Sites have a potential for water storage for water prevention, recreation, augmentation, fish and other beneficial uses. The Merrimack Study Area reservoir site is a resource that should be developed and received careful consideration.

Merrimack College twenty-third year 1970-71 freshmen to O on its North Andover campus.

The incoming Class of 1974 expands the student body of Merrimack College with over 500 students from Great Britain, Ireland, and other countries.

"The purpose of the program is to enable the freshmen to come integral members of the Merrimack College community within the first week of the variety of academic programs," stated Dr. J. J. O'Malley, O.S.A., President of the College.

Following the first session of the Class of 1974, the campus, Merrimack College, President Rev. John J. O'S.A., the administration, faculty were hosts for freshmen students and informal receptionists in the Commons Lounge of the Building.

Academic programs ministered by the counselling center, battery of tests which will be available on a range basis to students and majors and electing program has this year to include qualifying examination in the form of a written test will be administered in the direction of the Department.

A series of workshops held to incorporate freshmen as quickly as possible into the college environment.

Merrimack Inventory Completed

Commissioner of Natural Resources Arthur W. Brownell, who is also Chairman of the Massachusetts Water Resources Commission, and Dr. Benjamin Isgur, U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, have jointly announced the completion of an inventory of 143 potential and existing reservoir sites in the upstream tributaries of the Merrimack River. The 293 page report on the Merrimack Study Area is the third in a series which will eventually cover the entire state. The Merrimack Study Area is that portion of the Merrimack River drainage area in Massachusetts plus the Rowley River drainage area, but excluding the Concord and Nashua River drainage areas.

The 138 potential sites described in the report have the capacity to store 22-billion gallons of water, with a combined surface area of 7,800 acres. Because of the comprehensiveness of this study, it is necessarily of a preliminary nature. Some sites may prove to be not feasible upon more detailed investigation, however, these sites have been identified and merit further consideration. These sites have a potential for providing storage for water supply, flood prevention, recreation, low-flow augmentation, fish and wildlife, or other beneficial uses in the Merrimack Study Area. A potential reservoir site is a natural resource that should be protected from development until it has received careful consideration as to its contribution in helping to meet the land and water resource needs of an area.

The Massachusetts Water Resources Commission will use data from this report data in the preparation of a comprehensive plan for the State's land and water resources. The report may also be utilized by local, state and Federal agencies in planning for the conservation or development of water resources to meet the rapidly expanding needs of the state.

Distribution of this report will be made to local Town Boards and Planning Agencies by the Massachusetts Water Resources Commission. Official file copies will be maintained in the Middlesex Conservation District office in Acton and the Essex Conservation District Office in Hathorne for examination by interested persons not receiving a copy.

The report was prepared by the U.S. Department of Agriculture under cooperative agreement with the Massachusetts Water Resources Commission as part of a 5-year study of the State's land and water resources. Some of the major items to be studied are identification of potential surface water reservoir sites; appraisal of damages from floodwater, sediment, and erosion; identification of flood plains and wetlands, present and projected population, income and land use; and determination of urban and community forestry needs. Investigations and analyses will be carried out by personnel of the Soil Conservation Service, Economic Research Service, and Forest Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Father Kamide will present a religious program that will develop the theme of "Community."

The Orientation Committee will also sponsor a mixer for the Class of 1974 on Wednesday evening in the College auditorium, a concern by the renowned jazz guitarist Charles Byrd on Thursday, a barbeque and bonfire on Friday evening, and a Saturday outing at Crane's Beach.

Anthony Cantalupo, sophomore class president, and a committee of 90 sophomores are handling the social program of Orientation 70 and Rev. John P. O'Malley, O.S.A., Director of Student Activities is in charge of the academic orientation.

Students from the Andover area attending Merrimack College are:

Thomas Cliffe Arrand, 196 Jenkins Road; Ann Terese Cook, 27 Wildwood Road; Eileen Annette Cook, 8 Karlton Circle; Linda Lee Crotch, 30 Chandler Circle; Michael John Dibitto, 15 North St.; Nancy Louise Evans, 10 Ivy Lane; Edward Patrick Joseph Garon, 35 Washington St.; Frank Bruce Greenberg, 123 North St.; Vincent Joseph McGravey, 21 En-

Many Attending Merrimack

Merrimack College began its twenty-third year by welcoming 593 freshmen to Orientation 70 on its North Andover campus.

The incoming Class of 1974 expands the student population of Merrimack College to 1983 students with over 1100 of the students from Greater Boston and Merrimack Valley communities.

"The purpose of Orientation 70 is to enable the freshmen to become integral members of the Merrimack College community within the first week through a variety of academic and social programs," stated Director of Student Activities, Rev. John P. O'Malley, O.S.A.

Following the first meeting of the Class of 1974 and tours of the campus, Merrimack College President Rev. John R. Aherne, O.S.A. the administration and faculty were hosts for the incoming freshmen students at a casual and informal reception in the Perkins Lounge of the Student Union Building.

Academic programs to be administered by the guidance and counselling center include a battery of tests the results of which will be available on a long-range basis to students in selecting majors and electives. The testing program has been enlarged this year to include an English qualifying examination. This test in the form of a writing sample will be administered under the direction of the English department.

A series of workshops will be held to incorporate the incoming freshmen as quickly as possible into the academic community, to relate to one another easily and openly, and to communicate effectively with the faculty and administration.

Rev. Paul Kamide, O.S.A., Chaplain of Merrimack College, has designated Friday and Saturday as "Days of Service." Through the media of word, music, and film,

JOHN DEYERMOND

John Deyermund, well known retired Andover police officer, died Wednesday at Lawrence General hospital. He had been in ill health and was taken to the hospital in the Andover fire department ambulance at 10 p.m. Tuesday.

He had been residing at Grand View Terrace.

He retired in 1956 after 33 years as a policeman, serving more than half that time on duty in Andover Square as a day traffic officer. He was widely-known, popular with residents of the town and a particular favorite with the children and youths.

Mr. Deyermund and his wife were married in New Hampshire in June, 1914, and had made their home in Andover for many years. Surviving besides Mrs. Deyermund are a daughter, Elizabeth, wife of North Andover Police Officer Frank H. Dushame; and six sons, Robert, a former Andover police sergeant, Calvin, James, a fire fighter, John Jr., of Oneida, N. Y., William of North Andover and Warren Deyermund of LaPlata, Md.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

ON PLANNING COMMITTEE

An Andover resident, Jordan J. Burgess, is a member of the committee planning the Third Annual Bentley College Recognition Breakfast being held at the college's Student Center, Sunday.

An invitation to drive a car you've never heard of.

It's called Audi.

And it does things differently from just about every other car in the world. It stops differently, turns differently, moves differently, it even uses gas differently.

You see, in designing this car, German engineers used the most advanced automotive principles. Which is why the Audi performs like nothing you've ever driven before.

The car sounds almost too good to be true, doesn't it?

Well then, why not come in and drive the Audi.

We'll tell you this much: it won't take very long for you to notice the things it does differently.

Just once around the block should do it.

New Principal At Shawsheen

The TOWNSMAN, in this issue, introduces Anthony Frulla, new principal of Shawsheen school, who has taken over the helm of this 330-pupil school this fall, and was actively engaged in the school administration's work and planning over this summer.

Frulla comes to Andover from the State University of New York at Albany, where he held a graduate fellowship in education and school administration. He has experience as a junior high and elementary school teacher in Maryland and Lee, Mass. and as an elementary school principal in Otis, Mass.

Frulla is a 1960 graduate of Springfield College, with a master's degree in education from the State College at North Adams. He has combined teaching and administration with professional study since that time.

Innovations at the Shawsheen school this fall include the conversion of the auditorium into a library and media center, and there's more to come.

The Frulla family, with their four children, live at 46 Stonington St., North Andover.

School Libraries Need Aid

Andover School Library Director Mrs. Anetta Freedman is looking for volunteers to help in the town's school libraries, one or possibly more half-days a week.

Volunteer help is needed, Mrs. Freedman said, for the libraries to function as full media centers.

Inservice training will be provided, to train the volunteers in checking out books, shelving, filing and the operation of audio-visual equipment to show film loops, slides, tapes, etc.

Mrs. Freedman asks interested persons to call her office - extension 9 of the high school number, 475-8440, to apply.

Jewish New Year To Be Observed

As the sun sets, Wednesday evening, Sept. 30, Jews the world over gather to observe the Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashanah, one of the most ancient and sacred days in their history. The commandments for the observance of the holiday are described in the Biblical Book of Leviticus, compiled three thousand years ago. According to the Hebrew calendar, the year 1970-71 is the Hebrew year 5731.

Rosh Hashanah is a profoundly serious day, when Jews come together to pray, to examine their acts and their relationship to God and to each other, to remember the past and dedicate themselves to the future. It is the first of the "Days of Awe," a ten-day period, culminating in the Day of Atonement, Yom Kippur.

According to Hebrew tradition, man's fate is written down on Rosh Hashanah and sealed at last on the final, tenth day, Yom Kippur, which begins this year at sundown, Oct. 9, Friday evening. Orthodox and Conservative Jews observe Rosh Hashanah for two days, and many Reform Jews for one. The two-day observance stems from the days after the Diaspora. Since the Hebrew calendar was a lunar one, and differed from the prevailing solar calendar, it was feared that an error in reckoning might deprive a Jew living in the Diaspora from observing Rosh Hashanah on the proper day.

The traditional Rosh Hashanah service centers around prayer and self-examination, but reaches an extraordinary climax when the Shofar, a hollow ram's horn, one of the oldest instruments known to man, is blown.

The Book of Leviticus refers to the sound of the Shofar as a "blast of horns," "a holy convocation." The sound is piercing and powerful. Over the centuries it has symbolized many things to Jews ancient and modern: A call to battle; the tearing away of the old year and the past, through repentance and forgiveness; a plea to God that he remember man, and an alarm to rouse man from his moral indolence to an awareness of his responsibilities toward God and his fellow man.

Though the holiday is a solemn, introspective one, it is colored by an underlying joyousness in the traditional songs and poetry incorporated in the service. The wish for a "sweet" year of happiness and fulfillment is symbolically expressed at the traditional evening meal. Families dip a piece of bread or an apple into a bowl of honey, in the hope that "sweetness" will flavor the coming year. This hopeful prayer for a "sweeter year" is a universal one! Temple Emanuel, serving the Greater Lawrence area, will usher in the New Year with Services on Wednesday night, Thursday and Friday mornings. Barnett Rosenthal is chairman of the ritual committee.

Services will be conducted by Rabbi Harry A. Roth, and chanted by Cantor Irving Shuman, assisted by the Temple Emanuel Choir, with Miss Mildred Moore and Miss Joan Maynard at the organ.

Shawsheen Teachers Introduced

The teachers of the Shawsheen Elementary school were the guests of the Shawsheen P.T.O. at a recent tea held in the faculty room at the school.

Mrs. Ethel Howard, P.T.O. president, introduced the new faculty members: Mrs. M. Murphy, Mrs. L. Podgorski, Miss F. Giavares and J. Cunneen. Representatives of the art, music and guidance team were in attendance as was Mrs. R. Milton Cole of the school committee.

They were each presented a packet designed to familiarize them with the Andover area.

Wrestling Instruction Scheduled

The Andover YMCA will conduct a boys' wrestling instruction program in the 10 week fall term. The class will meet on successive Fridays 5:30-7 p.m., starting Oct. 2. Boys 10-14 years of age are eligible and may register for the course at the YMCA at this time. The course will cover basic fundamentals of amateur wrestling, plus some fitness development activities, and some informal competition.

The instructor will be Edward Salem, who has won seven New England AAU and YMCA Titles. For the past 20 years instructor Salem has been teaching wrestling at the Lawrence YMCA, both in the men's class program and as assistant coach of the varsity team. With his brother Norman he has produced the largest boys' wrestling program in the New England Area and the squad has captured seven straight New England YMCA Midget Boys' Wrestling Team titles.

Chapter Meeting

The Greater Lawrence Chapter of Friends of the New England Home for Little Wanderers will hold a Casual Coffee at the November Club, Locke St., on Tuesday, Sept. 29 at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Guy B. Howe Jr., and Mrs. Anthony Sakowich are co-chairmen of the event. Members of the board will be present to acquaint those attending with the various youth-oriented programs of the "Home" in Boston. Committee chairmen will outline activities to be conducted in the Greater Lawrence area.

Those interested in the work of the "Home" and the local Chapter are urged to attend.

The Ambulance

Three members of the board of selectmen have seen fit to abandon any thoughts, for the present, of providing Andover with a second ambulance.

Chairman Robert A. Watters, Selectmen Roger W. Collins and George F. Heseltine moved a week ago, to remove the proposal from consideration at the Oct. 5 town meeting. The article called for an appropriation of $15,000 to provide a second ambulance for the town.

Selectman Sidney P. White, supported by Selectman William Stewart, wanted the matter placed before the voters for public consideration, in light of increased costs. This theory that the public should have the opportunity to determine if they wish such service was blocked by the majority of the board.

Ambulance service in Andover has been under fire for the past several weeks.

At present the policy stands that emergency service to Greater Lawrence hospitals will be answered by the ambulance, based on the advice to the fire department of a physician, police officer or firefighter.

Anything other than a strict emergency must be handled by a private ambulance service.

Andover is the only Greater Lawrence community that charges $10 to transport non residents to the local hospitals, including accident cases.

It is now proposed that the policy be examined by an appointed committee with a report due on the policy and possibility of a second ambulance prior to the annual town meeting in March.

The additional delay, if the town decides additional service is necessary, will only lead to further curtailment of what many consider a needed service.

Selectman White in his argument for leaving the article in the warrant, noted that he and his colleagues should probably sit down for a complete meeting on the ambulance policy. Spend some time considering the matter among themselves.

This seemed logical.

The selectmen, under the town manager charter, are supposed to be a policy making board, but apparently the majority does not feel there is sufficient time for them to spend the possibly needed hours to consider such a vital issue, such as providing ambulance service to the town.

It would appear now that any opportunity the townspeople would have to decide on increased service, or change in policy, will be delayed until the town meeting in March. Certainly, if the majority of the selectmen are opposed to action in October, then the Finance Committee would not look favorably upon such an issue.

Assuredly, increased service would mean additional costs. But, Andover has been facing these problems as the town continues to grow.

Failure of the majority of the selectmen to tackle the particular problem with dispatch, indicates a willingness to delay facing a major decision. This is a matter which eventually leads to poor leadership.

Too long, Andover has suffered from delayed decisions, putting over to committees for study and such other stalling tactics. In the long run they prove costly.

A reversal of their decision of a week ago, would allow the voters to decide just what they want in services in October, but it would appear that three men will dictate that the matter of ambulance policy and service will be put off to next March at the earliest.

The Playstead

It now seems that development of the Andover Playstead, in conjunction with construction of the Doherty school addition appears certain.

Plans for the new school must be accompanied by the development of the play area in order to receive state financial assistance.

Thus, the planning of the playstead area, will also come in for some state assistance, both in planning and development.

It is important to the town that the area be properly developed, for it lends itself well to the recreation needs of the town.

It is centrally located, offers a wide area which can be developed to provide recreational areas for all ages.

That it now will receive some professional attention seems wise.

Evaluation

A salient point was made at a joint meeting of several boards and committees Monday night with regard to the so-called open school concept.

A member of the Finance Committee asked if the school administration had made an evaluation of the Bancroft school program, since its inception a year ago.

Administrators said that the overall school program was being examined constantly. It was also mentioned, that while all new school construction is based on the open school concept, the new buildings are adaptable to change back to the single classroom space.

Since Bancroft, and now West school, along with the other schools in town are adapting to the new methods, it would seem that the time is ripe for a full evaluation of the modern day program.

And, while we oppose to a certain degree, outside consultants, it would seem that such would be recommended for this evaluation.

As with any new concept, there are proponents and opponents.

An outside educational survey team could adequately examine Andover's efforts in providing a so-called modern education for its youth.

Is the Bancroft, and other schools, adequately meeting the needs for today's youth?

The layman can examine and evaluate, but only the professional educator can properly judge.

Such items as an Informational Materials Center (IMC), is considered necessary, but even at the meeting to discuss the Doherty school addition Monday night, this particular item was being called by what we referred to the area before — a library.

Buildings are costly.

New programs are also.

Population growth at the moment dictates a need for the Doherty school addition and its continuance of the open school concept.

But before additional education facilities are planned, or funds sought, a thorough evaluation of how beneficial the new concepts are for Andover's young people should be undertaken.

This, in view of the fact that while the building itself is costly to construct, it is equally, if not more financially burdening to staff the structure.

An evaluation, it seems, is in order.

Off The Top

Of The Desk

There certainly is something about the opening of a school year.

All the floors show signs of vigorous maintenance work during the summer months by the custodial staff and desks and chairs are neatly polished.

While it is lasting, the appearance and newness of the schools soon begins to degenerate, leaving more work of a similar nature to be performed next summer.

Hundreds of exuberant feet, for instance, will most certainly dull the shine of the gym floors before too many weeks pass.

The state election is still some weeks off, but already campaign literature is beginning to arrive in the daily mail.

Too, the bumper stickers are becoming more prominent as the office seekers make their final effort for retention of office, or successful work toward gaining a state or county office.

No doubt the campaigns will pick up in intensity once September passes.

Evidence that the baseball season is probably too long is shown by the sagging attendances in most all major league parks, with the exception of those still in pennant races.

The other day in Chicago, a total of less than 700 fans showed up for a doubleheader.

This week, just over 10,000 showed up for a Red Sox night game, the lowest of the season for a contest under the lights.

"Hello Dolly," the hit Broadway musical, has now reached a new plateau, having surpassed the performances of "My Fair Lady," and scheduled to run through December of this year.

It is the longest running musical on Broadway and each performance sets another record. Ethel Merman, for whom the work was originally written, is now starring in the musical.

Attending a performance in New York this summer was Edward P. Grigoli, head of the Andover music department.

It's possible, "Dolly," will come to the Andover stage next spring when the annual Andover High musical production is planned.

Every year at this time, many calls are received here at the Agricultural and Technical Institute from area residents who want to save their geranium plants. After having nurtured their plants all summer they feel it a shame to let the frost kill them.

Experience has shown that most homeowners are not very successful in over-wintering geraniums. The reasons are many. Most often poor results occur because of the growing conditions that exist in modern homes. It is generally too hot, dry and not enough sunlight to keep the plants blooming. However, gardeners should not be discouraged from trying to keep their plants. They should realize, though, that it will be difficult to obtain the same quality plant offered by florists in the spring.

To assist interested homeowners in trying to save their geraniums, an informative fact sheet is available free on request. Send for "Geranium Culture" to Frank McGee, Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute, Hathorne, Mass., 01937.

75 Years Ago — September, 1895

Phillips Exeter Academy has enrolled 188 students this year, while Phillips Andover has registered about 400.

The regular quarterly Temperance meeting will be held at the Baptist church Sunday at 7:30. Anyone interested in this cause is welcome to attend.

The Women's Relief Corps is to hold their annual fair in the Town House in October. As their cause is to build a soldier's monument, it is hoped for wide participation by townspeople.

The hammer that pounded the first nail driven to build the town of Lawrence is in the possession of an Andover family. It was given by a member of the late Daniel Saunder's family as a gesture of friendly esteem.

Marland Mills have been closed during the past week in order to make repairs to the machine.

50 Years Ago — September, 1920

Big raid made by local and state police, during which $10,000 worth of bond whiskey is seized on Flint Court.

Contract for the installation of the sewer line in Shawsheen Village is awarded to a Milford firm, the low bidder.

The fund for the purchase of a new piano and drop curtain for the Pynchard school reached $886 this week.

State University Extension Classes in conversational French will begin soon at the November club on Locke street.

Contract work on rebuilding Main street is completed and the finished product is quite good, having been accomplished by one of the state's most competent builders.

25 Years Ago — September, 1945

Four-year-old boy from Ballardvale is the third victim of drowning in the Shawsheen River within the past two years. Body was found with use of an underwater light in the Lowell Junction area.

Committee planning 300th anniversary of the incorporation of the town decides that the observance should be held between May 30 and June 2, 1946.

Several recreation projects discussed by a special committee appointed to determine needs. Providing swimming lessons is strongly recommended.

Plans for a new school for the West Andover area presented to the North District Improvement Association at the North school. Proposal would create eight new classrooms and do away with the district schools.

10 Years Ago — September, 1960

School committee submits plan calling for $3,000,000 as part of development of a capital outlay master plan, informing the town manager that the projects encompass a ten year program.

Rev. Donald J. Ryder, pastor of Andover Baptist church, resigns to accept call from Beverly church.

Boston and Maine railroad asks permission of the town to install automatic gates at the railroad crossing on Essex street, thus doing away with the manual operation.

Five candidates seek position of Urban Renewal director at a salary of $10,000. Housing Authority to make appointment soon.

First complete week of school shows an enrollment of 3,550, a new record for the town.

What Our Readers Say

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:
Richard Bowen's Article for the Special Town Meeting that would encourage saving waste items, such as discarded newspapers and magazines as they reach the town's disposal area, is all to the good. His article is a place of beginning. That is important at this time when space for waste is a major problem.

To make the proposed program more effective, it is hoped that the article shall be expanded so as to encourage the salvage of aluminum cans as they reach the dump. It is reported that they bring as much as 10 cents for twenty and the price is going up.

This plan can be implemented by requiring all places of sale of aluminum containers within Andover to display an appropriate sign such as "These containers are aluminum. Please dispose of used containers at the special place for them at the town's disposal area."

We all have heard the plea, particularly by the young "What can I do to make government and its programs more effective?" Mr. Bowen's article goes to the heart of the matter.

Otto Bertschi

To Lecture At Church

"The Demand of Spiritual Discovery is the title of a public lecture to be given in Andover on Friday, Oct. 2 by Otto Bertschi, C.S.B. a Christian Science practitioner and teacher from Zurich Switzerland.

The lecture is being sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist and will begin at 8 p.m. in the church, 278 North Main St.

Mr. Bertschi's family was among the pioneers of the Christian Science movement in Zurich. He is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

His lecture is open to the public and admission is free. A nursery is provided for small children.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

The Council on Aging is happy to announce that the Hot Lunch Program for Senior Citizens has resumed at the East Junior High School Cafeteria. Lunch will be served daily at one o'clock for fifty cents. All "over-60" Andover residents are eligible to participate in the program. It is, however, absolutely necessary that those intending to eat at East Junior High telephone for a reservation the day before at The Haven 475-3968. Unless there is a fairly large turnout, the program will be discontinued.

It is imperative that those who would like the program to be continued support it. The menu is published ahead in The TOWNSMAN, but a special menu is provided on those days the children are having pizza or kangaroo sandwiches, etc. Otherwise the general menu is that provided for the school children. Please do not arrive before one o'clock in order to give the cafeteria people time to prepare for the senior citizens.

The regular monthly luncheons at the Vocational High School will begin again, the first being Tuesday, Oct. 6. Reservations are essential and may be made by phoning The Haven. Bus leaves The Haven

Red Cross
In Need Of Volunteers

What would Red Cross do without its volunteers, those who give financial support, give blood, and give service? The answer is clear that it would not be able to carry on its multiple programs.

Andover residents have always given generously to the blood program. For this reason the local chapter has agreed to assume an additional number of bloodmobiles to help provide blood to the 166 hospitals served by the Massachusetts Blood Program. In order to be successful blood donors are needed but also more persons are needed to man the units.

Volunteers are wanted in particular to register, type, hostess, drive, and serve in the canteen. No previous training is essential in most instances.

The schedule for October through June 1971 is as follows: Gillette Toiletries, first Friday each month (inplant); Oct. 16, Andover Institute of Business; Oct. 22 and 23, South Church (Community); Dec. 7, Isham Infirmary (Andover High, Phillips and Abbot Academies); Jan. 13, Masonic Temple (Community); Feb. 23, 24 and 25, Raytheon (inplant); March 17, 18 and 19, Internal Revenue Service (inplant); May 19 and 20, South Church, (Community); May, Voke School (date to be announced); June 8 and 9, Internal Revenue Service (inplant).

Volunteers are requested to call Miss Libbey at 475-1496 and volunteer for this important life-saving service. "Let Volunteering Be Your Thing."

Rev. Joseph F. Gill, O.S.A., officiated.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and Marilyn Nagy, an aunt of the bride was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a peau de soie gown trimmed with Venice lace, jeweled pearls, cathedral length veil edged with a lace Camelot headpiece.

Nancy Early, cousin of the bride was maid of honor and wore an Empire orchid gown and carried pink carnations, pink baby orchids with pink streamers.

Laurel Richards, sister-in-law of the bride, of Ayer, was the matron of honor. She wore a pink Empire gown and carried a bouquet of orchard carnations and pink baby orchids with pink streamers.

Bridesmaid was Dianne Demers, sister of the bridegroom, who wore a gown similar to that of the maid of honor and carried an identical bouquet.

Susan Nagy and Wendy Call, cousins of the bride served as flower girls and wore orchid princess gowns and carried baskets of petals.

Phillip Newcombe was the best man and ushers were Stephen Richards, brother of the bride, and Robert J. Demers, brother of the bridegroom.

The ring bearer was Robert Call of Wakefield, Godson of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Richards chose a pink lace dress, with deep rose accessories and had a pink orchid corsage.

Mrs. Demers wore a deep rose dress and coat with deep rose accessories.

Out of town guests at the wedding followed by a reception at Briarcliff, were from New York, Canada and Hyannis.

Following a wedding trip to Vermont, the couple are residing on Marland St. in Ballardvale.

The bride is a graduate of Andover High school and is employed by the Raytheon Co., in Andover.

Mr. Demers is a graduate of the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High School and is a member of the U. S. Naval Air Reserve Corps.

TEEN CENTER

A gym committee is interested in having the high school gym available again this winter. The facility has been used previously and is adult supervised.

A cleanup committee would take care of the facility following its use.

This same committee, already in operation, maintains the fire station and makes a weekly trip to the dump after thoroughly going over the entire building.

Faro feels that the central location has been a key to the success of the center. It has afforded a meeting place for the young people to gather, rather than on corners or streets, he noted.

Those who have been attending, have taken care of the building because they feel it is theirs and they are responsible to maintain it.

James Carroll, who initiated and heads the Student Activity Center at the high school, supported the fire station proposal and assists in its administration.

Faro intends to meet with the town manager and the selectmen and invite them to see the activity at the center before making any final decision on demolition.

He noted that only a few parking spaces would be gained by the demolition, while allowing its continued use would provide a service to the young people.

The young people are interested in helping the community, as evidenced by the community involvement committee decision to assist Spanish speaking people in Lawrence at its Tuesday night meeting.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin, who was scheduled to meet Faro Wednesday afternoon, said that the use of the station was allowed as an experiment and that a report on its use and activity was awaited.

An evaluation will be made, he said along with consideration of such matters as heating the building in the winter and consideration of safety factors.

Dr. Albert J. Greenberg of the finance committee supports the youths using the station stating he is behind the proposal all the way. He said he feels the use should be allowed through spring anyway, by which time a recreation program should evolve, with possible inclusion of a building.

Without the station, there are no other buildings available.

Only other possibilities are the Stowe school, which is going to be used by the school administration, the former Hurley property, which is now stripped of all facilities or the Jackson school, which is being used for classes and would not be conducive to the youth program.

Faro feels that the town support is needed in order to continue a program which is growing through enthusiastic response of responsible youngsters.

Anyone wishing to assist may contact Faro at 475-4130 or Donna Strobel at 475-8838.

Hockey Leagues Forming

During its fall term, starting next week, the Andover YMCA will conduct Gym Hockey Leagues for girls in grades 5-7 and for boys in grades 5-8.

The girls' program will be conducted in the YMCA gym on Wednesdays starting at 3 p.m.

The boys' leagues will be scheduled for Saturday starting at 11 a.m. in the YMCA gym.

Gym clothes and sneakers are required and all equipment will be supplied. Questions may be addressed to Physical Director Walter J. Kimball at the YMCA.

The program this week is a competition in colored slides and black and white prints. It is to be judged by Paul Carlson of Saugus. Mr. Carlson is an active member of the Photographic Society of America. He is in charge of keeping records of exhibitors of monochrome prints for all PSA Salon Exhibits in North America. His comments on each slide and print entered should be enlightening to all present.

Meetings will be held regularly on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month and visitors will be welcome.

The program includes several of New England's premier speakers and will include numerous competitions in slides and prints.

Twenty-two thousand times a day, every day of your life, you inhale that precious substance known as air. How clean is the air you breathe? When you feel like burning leaves this year... don't. It's against the law. Help reduce air pollution, says the Massachusetts Medical Society.

Winter Vacation? Plan Now!

Make your winter vacation plans now! Sutton Travel, Inc. announces that space is already getting short on vacation trips for December, January and February. Whether you are heading for a little fun in the sun or a skiing holiday in Europe, don't hesitate - make reservations early.

Sutton Travel, Merrimack Valley's most experienced travel agency, is ready to serve you at two convenient locations. Simply call or visit Sutton's Lawrence office at 21 Lawrence Street or their Andover office at 1 Lowell Street and all your travel accommodations will be made for you.

Sutton Travel suggests a worry-free cruise for this year's winter vacation. They have some excellent cruises to the Caribbean, Hawaii and Mexico. Or for a change of pace, try a skiing vacation in the Alps, Italy or Switzerland. The newest thing in winter vacations is a golfing trip, away from the snow and ice of New England to beautiful Costa Del Sol in Spain.

All of the Travel Consultants at Sutton Travel Service have had many travel experiences to enable them to serve you better. In the Lawrence office, you may consult with Mr. Fred Lais, Miss Ann Furdeck, Mrs. Margaret O'Neill, Mrs. Ruth Faro, Miss Dianne Paquin, Mrs. Jacqueline Ulbin or Miss Margaret O'Brien. In the Andover office, Mrs. Sarah Pickering and Mrs. Shirley McGill are ready to assist you.

This winter, plan to escape the bad weather. Miss Betty Couillard, owner of Sutton Travel, and her staff can plan a trip of whatever duration you desire, from 7 days to 48 days.

It takes time to plan an extended trip, so you'd be wise to plan now for summer trips to Europe, also. By having Sutton Travel make your arrangements all the confusion and worry about how to travel, where to stay and what to take with you will be avoided. You can relax, prepare for your trip and enjoy it more while you are away.

Sutton Travel Service is open daily from 9 till 5:30. Lawrence office open Tuesdays and Fridays till 9 and Saturday mornings for your added convenience.

Education Opportunities

The 48th Annual Edition of Educational Opportunities of Greater Boston has just been published by the Educational Exchange of Greater Boston, 18 Brattle St., Cambridge. This well known directory lists 200 schools for adults, offering more than 5000 courses. A remarkable variety of subjects in arts, sciences, commerce, languages, homemaking, social studies, engineering, trades, etc. offers a choice of study to adults of nearly every interest.

The Educational Exchange is an unique social agency, founded in 1891, as a pioneer in adult education. Since 1923 it has served as a clearing house in adult education, where many thousands of men and women have been helped in their choice of schools and courses. Adults interested in going to school are invited to call upon the Exchange, 876-3080.

Mr. Henry D. Winslow is president of the Educational Exchange. Zelda Lions is Executive Director.

NEW FLOOR. Work is underway at the Andover East Junior High school where a new floor is being installed. The new installation is part of the overall renovation program which has been going on at the school the past two summers.

Troop 75 Campout

A five-mile hike and overnight campout will be held the weekend of Sept. 26 by Boy Scout Troop 75. Gerald Champagne will be in charge of the camp at the Andover Boat Launching area on the Shawshen River. Instruction on preparing packs for the hike will be given at the 7 p.m. Friday meeting at the Doherty School Gymnasium. A demonstration will be presented on using flint and steel to light a fire.

William D'Annolfo, Troop 75 committee chairman, has appointed Dr. Louis Galbiati, North Essex Organization and Extension Chairman, to act as scoutmaster for the initial phase of the new experimental program designed to provide the scouts with a broader outdoor program.

The troop will go on a Camporee on the Oct. 3 weekend to the North Andover Town Farm. Mr. D'Annolfo is looking for two additional men to help the troop on special activities.

The Troop 75 meeting night was changed to Friday in order to eliminate the conflict with school homework assignments.

ADDITION

soon as possible.

St. Germain said that the building committee had been cost-conscious in developing the plans for the addition. The same building committee supervised construction of the West school addition and he informed the various committees Monday night that there was a possibility that some of the funds for that project may be returned to the town.

Development of the Andover playstead is expected to be coupled with the project. William Black of the SEAC has seen the preliminary plans and has asked that the playstead development be included.

St. Germain said that he has been in contact with the architect who is willing to include such work in the final drawings.

In order for the town to act on the $80,000 appropriation, it must have finance committee approval.

Dr. Albert J. Greenberg FinCom chairman, reported that while the committee had not taken a vote on the matter as yet, it appeared that the committee would allow the matter to come to the floor.

Chairman Robert A. Watters of the selectmen also said that he thought his board, while not having taken an official vote as yet, would support the article.

Chamber To Publish Brochure

Shortly, the Andover Chamber of Commerce will be publishing a brochure describing the town of Andover. This booklet will describe local industry and commerce, area services and facilities.

Other features to be included are population, tax rate, municipal structure, educational opportunities and media.

All community, church, and fraternal organizations interested in becoming a part of this booklet should notify Bob Schwarz at the Chamber office. All organizations will be listed free of charge.

HOW YOU CAN HELP YOUR SCHOOL CHILD

Most of us would have to admit that the pace of learning today demands a lot of our children, no matter how gifted they may be.

In the Christian Science Sunday School, children of all ages learn how they may turn to God and find in themselves the very qualities they most need, such as confidence, poise, an eagerness to learn.

Your child is welcome at our Sunday School. Services for adults and a nursery are at the same time.
